

Ms. Mimi's Enrichment News, February 25, 2020: Geography and Folklore

Today we traveled to India. We learned about the geography, landmarks, and flag. The children were each given a square of paper with a picture on it and asked what it was. It was hard to tell until we looked at many different pieces. We talked about how people need to observe many parts of something before we can really describe it. Then, we read The Blind Men and the Elephant. They didn't know what an elephant was and when each man felt only a part of the elephant, he had a different idea of what it was like.

The children thought the story was hilarious and we had a good discussion about observation!
